"The Wicked Good iPhone Introduction modules are very well done. For someone like myself who doesn't understand anything about the iPhone, stopping and re-listening to the directions is good. They are very clear and well done. Repeating the video will make it sink in!"

"I've been viewing a number of online Android tutorials and have noticed one thing that I find very annoying compared to your BoomerTECH Adventures' tutorials. The pace and delivery of info is very fast and almost frenzied. I have enjoyed the deliberate pace of the BoomerTECH tutorials because the pace gives one opportunity to absorb info. I realize I can start and stop any of these videos to try out certain features but the frenetic pace of some tutorials means constant start and stop. I guess that's why yours are so appropriate for Boomers."
